An Unusual School

I) Most of us see our school as a boring place, some of us even dream of vacation every single lesson and can't wait for the holidays. In the past, people could only learn about the world inside the classroom, and being a student was the only way to learn more about the world. But thanks to the computers, things have changed in the last century. Today, students can get information online very easily.

II) Today, most schools encourage their students to explore online for information. "A good student needs to know how to search information online, because very soon that will be the only way we learn", says Kate Mogner, a school principal at Houston, Texas.

III) Kate's school is called "The school of magic" because for the last five years it has been teaching in a different way. Most of the time lessons in Kate's school are opposite to most schools. Instead of a lecture by the teacher, students are given assignments by the teachers and have to represent their findings to the classroom. Only later the teacher will add his own knowledge, other details and information the students-researchers might have missed.
